Jack Bellinger joins eCORP as General Counsel

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: June 15, 2007

Houston, Texas – eCORP, LLC today announced that John N. (“Jack”) Bellinger joined the company on June 1, 2007, as its General Counsel. In this role, Mr. Bellinger is responsible for handling all legal matters related to the eCORP family of businesses, which businesses include natural gas storage and pipeline development and operation, exploration and production of oil and gas, energy marketing and electric power generation.

Mr. Bellinger brings over 25 years of experience in the energy-related legal field at both law firms and public companies. Prior to joining eCORP, he was Vice President, Managing Counsel at Calpine Corporation where he was responsible for, among other things, a number of acquisitions and divestitures and power project development and operation. His background also includes 5 years of natural gas exploration experience with Texas Oil & Gas Co., as well as 6 years representing the energy marketing and midstream divisions of LG&E Energy Corp.

Mr. Bellinger holds Bachelor of Science in accounting and Juris Doctorate degrees from Louisiana State University, and obtained a Master of Laws degree in environmental law from the University of Houston.

"Jack's background in both the natural gas and electric sector makes him imminently qualified for his duties as General Counsel for eCORP. With his superior legal skills and our shared view on environmentally sound project development, Jack is an excellent addition to the eCORP management team," said John F. Thrash, Chairman and CEO of eCORP, LLC.
