eCORP Announces Addition of Patrick J. Peldner to Management Team

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: August 11, 2008

eCORP, LLC ("eCORP") is pleased to announce that Patrick J. Peldner has joined the management team of the company and its development subsidiary, eCORP Development, LLC, effective August 11, 2008. Mr. Peldner, will serve as Chief Operating Officer of eCORP Development, LLC and also serve as Executive Vice President of eCORP, the holding company for all storage related affiliates and subsidiaries.

Mr. Peldner explained, "Through my experience in the midstream natural gas business I have become acquainted with the eCORP principals and their reputations, and am pleased to be associated with this unique group of talented, entrepreneurial individuals. I am excited about the opportunities this relationship brings to my family and me."

Mr. Peldner most recently served as an officer with Enstor, Inc., one of the largest natural gas storage companies in North America. Prior to his tenure at Enstor, Inc., Mr. Peldner amassed significant experience in the natural gas storage, processing, and pipeline businesses with several energy companies. Mr. Peldner is a graduate of the University of Georgia and the Georgia Institute of Technology.

John Francis Thrash, Chairman and CEO of eCORP, remarked, "Patrick brings over twenty-five years of successful experience in the energy industry to the eCORP family of companies. The expansion of capabilities that he imparts to our forward efforts will doubtless prove invaluable."

eCORP, Project Developer of the Stagecoach Natural Gas Storage Facility in New York, is the Developer and Manager of the Chestnut Ridge Storage Facility in Pennsylvania, which is expected to come on line in the Fall of 2009. With Mr. Peldner's assistance, eCORP plans to add additional high performance, multi-cycle storage facilities similar to Stagecoach and Chestnut Ridge.
